Beatrix Potter's Peter Rabbit organic "Naturally Better" plush toys from Kids Preferred are a great companion for daytime fun and a good night's sleep. I think they're especially better at night because that's traditionally story time as well!

When my little niece saw the carrot in Peter Rabbit's hand, she was very curious to know how he got it. Do you know how? I must confess I had to re-read the story to refresh my memory. Well, the naughty little Peter Rabbit ran off to McGregor's field when Mother Rabbit wasn't around. While Flopsy, Mopsy and Cotton Tail played in the field close by, Peter feasted on the lettuce, beans, radishes and more. Oh, oh! McGregor catches sight of Peter and chases him. However, Peter manages to get back home sans his clothes and shoes. All tired, Peter goes off to sleep without his dinner.

Kids Preferred has come out with a great line of toys based on the story of Peter Rabbit. What makes these toys still better is their eco-friendly nature. These "Naturally Better" toys are made of organic cotton and other eco friendly materials. They are recyclable and PVC free. The Naturally Better Peter Rabbit line includes Peter, Flopsy, Mopsy and Cotton Tail. I found them very soft and huggable. Also, they come in a box which looks great for gifting purposes.

Naturally Better Peter Rabbit is 18 inches tall with blue jacket and shoes. He's the mischevious little bunny who's absolutely adorable. He costs a little more than his siblings which is around $30.00.

Naturally Better Flopsy is a little shorter than Peter measuring about 13 inches tall. She's quite a responsible little bunny. Flopsy costs around $18.00.

Naturally Better Mopsy is also 13 inches tall works hand in hand with Flopsy. She helps to pluck the blackberries and bring them home.

Naturally Better Cotton Tail is also 13 inches tall and retails for approximately $18.00.
